

Birthday Botch

Once there was a girl named . She loved GIRL A
to and in
activity GIRL A enjoys activity GIRL A enjoys
 . She had , includ-
place GIRL A enjoys GIRL A's friends
ing a girl named . One day, invited GIRL B GIRL B
 over to her house to .
GIRL A activity GIRL A enjoys
When arrived, she saw GIRL A GIRL B's friends shouting “Surprise!” It was a surprise birthday party for
 ! She smiled and laughed. There was food and set up in .
GIRL A
noun GIRL B likes place GIRL B likes It looked like a lot of fun—but whenever
GIRL A
wanted to , everyone else wanted activity GIRL A enjoys to . It was and activity GIRL B enjoys adjective GIRL A does not like
 , and felt like everyone was adjective GIRL A does not like GIRL A
 . Why had so people been something that upsets GIRL A many/few invited, and why did they have to be in place GIRL B likes instead of in ? felt like she place GIRL A enjoys GIRL A was drowning. By the time the party was over, GIRL A
couldn't wait to go home. felt terrible and GIRL B
wondered, What went wrong?

Star Solo Group Word Bank

Girl A: Savannah

Activity she enjoys

read
write stories and poems
watch movies
relax quietly
go for a quiet walk

Place she enjoys

her bedroom
the living room
her private tree fort

Her friends

a few close friends
a small group of friends
two best friends

Noun she likes

movies
table games

Adjective she likes

comfy
relaxing
calm

Adjective she does not like

noisy
busy
hectic

Something that upsets her

pulling her in all directions overwhelming her

Girl B: Rachel

Activity she enjoys

play soccer
go in-line skating
play basketball
play tag
dance around

Place she enjoys

the local park
the backyard
the gym at school

Her friends

lots of casual friends
a huge crowd of friends
a bajillion friends

Noun she likes

carnival games
a basketball hoop

Adjective she likes

breezy
fast
exciting

Adjective she does not like

lonely
cramped
boring

Something that upsets her

ignoring her
holding her back

